

“Glimpses of the Countryside - One Hundred Years of the Polish Countryside (History in Pictures)”

with Ruta Śpiewak

Ruta Śpiewak will discuss photographs portraying a tumultuous century (1918-2018) of Polish country life that are the archival material from a unique book, “Patrząc na wieś” (Glimpses of the Countryside), which she coedited. These black and white images capture the ecosystem both humans and animals work for nourishment and shelter as village life changes with the epoch’s political transformations – at once specifically Polish and universally human.

Ruta Śpiewak is a sociologist engaged in the development of sustainable food systems in Poland, and she is currently a visiting scholar with the Ostrom Workshop.
