

Third Annual Wittman Lecture Series

Raccoons, Mass Graves and Drugs: Multidisciplinary Research at the Body Farm

Dr. Dawnie Wolfe Steadman

Professor, Department of Anthropology, University of Tennessee, Knoxville
Director, Forensic Anthropology Research Center (The Body Farm)

Friday, March 1, 2019

7:00 p.m. (Refreshments, 6:30 p.m.)

University Hall Theater
Indiana State University

Dr. Wolfe Steadman, an internationally renowned forensic anthropologist, will discuss her research at the Body Farm. Author of Hard Evidence: Case Studies in Forensic Anthropology, Dr. Wolfe Steadman has investigated mass graves, war crimes, and genocide around the world.

